Introduction

HISTORIC ENVIRONMENT SCOTLAND | ÀRAINNEACHD EACHDRAIDHEIL ALBA

The text is a short version of that provided on the Historic Environment Scotland web-site:

www.historicenvironment.scot

It is a criminal offence to demolish, remove or deface a Scheduled Monument.

For further information concerning Scheduled Monuments please contact Historic Environment Scotland at the above web address.

Access

The sites may not be suitable for access by people with mobility difficulties. It should also be noted that most of these sites may not be readily accessible to the public.

The Land Reform (Scotland) Act 2003 introduced new rights and responsibilities for the public and for land managers in terms of outdoor access. This means that as long as behaviour is responsible, i.e. respecting the interests of other people, caring for the environment and taking responsibility for your own actions, you can enjoy access to almost all land and inland water. Guidance on where these rights apply and exactly what is meant by 'responsible behaviour', for both access takers and land managers, is provided in the Scottish Outdoor Access Code:
