Development Bid Reference 0944 Inchgarth Road

I am in support of this bid as it will provide much needed specialist housing.

Many people who have lived in the Cults area for many years would like to stay in the area, downsizing in later life. This development will offer that possibility as well as recognising a need and desire for dwellings which are on one floor, or have internal lifts, or to the care home, freeing up family housing for the younger generation. As one gets older, invariably one can become more reliant on additional care and can be appreciative of such an amenity and community which the development potentially offers.
